MARKET OVERVIEW

Having enjoyed strong gains in the preceding two months, most equity markets took a breather and recorded subdued returns during November. The lack of market moving news resulted in investors reverting to trends that have dominated markets for the most part of the year. During the month the MSCI World index, rose 1.6% well ahead of the MSCI Emerging market index, which declined 1.6%. Within the developed market space, Japan and Germany led the list of gainers with increases of 9.3% and 4.1% respectively. The US and Hong Kong enjoyed robust returns as they rose 3.0% and 2.9% respectively. Emerging market weakness was led by Indonesia and Russia, which fell 5.6% and 5.2% respectively. The Chinese market rose 3.7%, whereas Brazil declined 3.3%, India 1.8% and South Africa 1.1%. The Emerging Market All Bond Index fell 2.6%, faring worse than the Barcap Global Aggregate index decline of 0.8%. Precious metals were particularly weak, with silver, platinum and gold falling 11.0%, 6.4% and 5.9%, respectively. The CRB Commodity Index, a proxy for global commodities, fell 1.0% during the month.

Turning to the local investment markets, the All Bond Index tracked other emerging market bonds and fell 1.4%. On the equity front, the All Share Index fell 1.1%, with the all gold index declining a further 12.3% during the month. Financials and basic materials also weighed heavily on the index as they declined 2.6% and 2.5% respectively. Industrials fared better and returned a flat return for the month. Across the size spectrum, the large caps were the worst performers, as the Top40 index fell 1.1%. The mid and small cap indices fell 1.0% and 0.8% respectively.

Units in linked insurance policies should be considered as medium to long-term investments. The value of units may go up as well as down and past performance is not necessarily a guide to future performance. Unit prices are calculated on a net asset basis, which is the total value of all the assets in the portfolio including any income accruals and less any permissible deductions (Brokerage, Securities Transfer Tax, VAT, Auditor's fees, Bank Charges, Custodian fees and the annual Management fee) from the portfolio divided by the number of units in issue. Fluctuations or movements in exchange rates may cause the value of any underlying international investments to go up and down. Forward pricing is used. Maestro Investment Management (Pty) Limited and Prescient Life Limited are members of the Association for Savings and Investments of South Africa (ASISA).
