Market Overview

After the dramatic moves in global markets following the Brexit vote in June investors began to anticipate global central banks coming to the rescue yet again. Indications of their accommodative monetary policy remaining here to stay led to investors piling into equity markets with strong gains seen in almost all major markets.

The MSCI World index rose 4.2% while the MSCI Emerging Market index rose 4.7% during the month. Leading the charge was the German market, which rose 6.8%, followed closely by the Japanese market, which gained 6.4%. The French equity market rose 4.8%, and the UK's FTSE100 index climbed 3.4%. In the US the S&P500 rallied 3.7% but the tech-heavy NASDAQ index rose 6.6%. Amongst the emerging market equity gainers were Brazil, which rose 11.2%, Greece 5.4%, Indonesia 4.0%, India 3.9%, Russia 2.8% (despite oil's sharp decline), and China 1.7%. Global bonds were resilient causing the Barclays Capital Global Aggregate Bond index to gain 0.8%.

The rand was the best performing major currency in July, gaining 6.0%, 5.6% and 4.7% against the pound, dollar and euro respectively. The pound continued to weaken against the dollar, declining 0.7%, while the euro and yen rose 0.7% and 0.1%, respectively. In the commodity sector, oil was the major laggard, declining 13.3%. Overall the sector was led higher by precious metals as palladium, platinum, silver, and gold rose 20.0%, 14.4%, 9.0% and 1.6% respectively. Nickel rose 11.6%, iron ore 9.1%, and copper 0.5%. Agricultural commodity prices, which rose strongly in June, declined sharply in July.

Local market returns

Turning to the South African equity market, most of the major indices posted muted returns during the month, apart from the gold index, which rose 17.8% (on the back of a 23.7% rise last month). The Financial index rose 2.8%, supported by the strong rand. The Industrial index, which is heavily weighted towards large dual listed shares, was inhibited by a stronger rand, and declined 0.4%. Following good commodity price gains in July the Basic Materials index rallied 4.3%. All of this respective activity led to the All Share index rising 1.2% during July. The Top40 (Large cap) index fell 0.1%, but the Mid cap index (supported by the gold and platinum miners) rose 8.1%. Meanwhile the Small cap index rose 2.5%. The All Bond index rose 2.2% during the month.

Monthly fund returns

During July the Maestro Balanced Fund's NAV decreased by 0.1% versus the Fund's benchmark which increased of 0.8%. The Maestro Equity Prescient Fund increased by 1.3% versus the 1.2% return of the All Share index. The Prescient Income Provider Fund returned 0.8% against its benchmark return of 0.6%. The Prescient Bond QuantPlus Fund increased by 1.9% versus its benchmark return of 2.2%. Central Park Global Balanced Fund produced a rand return of -2.5% versus the -2.8% return of the rand benchmark Units in linked insurance policies should be considered as medium to long-term investments. The value of units may go up as well as down and past performance is not necessarily a guide to future performance. Unit prices are calculated on a net asset basis, which is the total value of all the assets in the portfolio including any income accruals and less any permissible deductions (Brokerage, Securities Transfer Tax, VAT, Auditor's fees, Bank Charges, Custodian fees and the annual Management fee) from the portfolio divided by the number of units in issue. Fluctuations or movements in exchange rates may cause the value of any underlying international investments to go up and down. Forward pricing is used. Maestro Investment Management (Pty) Limited and Prescient Life Limited are members of the Association for Savings and Investments of South Africa (ASISA).
