Market Overview

September saw meetings of the major Central Banks, namely the US Federal Reserve Bank (the Fed) and the Bank of Japan (BoJ), as well as Brexit-related headlines and the OPEC decisions all adding to the news flow which had an impact on the markets.

Arguably the most significant event was the decision by the Fed to keep interest rates on hold was a positive for emerging market currencies and most notably the rand which rose 7.1% on the month. MSCI Emerging Market index rose 1.1% during September, ahead of the MSCI World index, which gained 0.4%.

In Europe, Germany's Dax fell 0.8%, while the UK's FTSE 100 gained 1.7% on the back of a weak pound as news broke that the UK is likely to trigger Article 50 as early as the first quarter of 2017. Equity markets in the US were fairly muted, with the S&P 500 gaining a marginal 0.1%. Asia was weaker, with Japan's Nikkei falling 2.6% while China's Shanghai and India's Sensex declined 2.6% and 2.1%, respectively. Other emerging markets were stronger, as Turkey's BIST100, Brazil's Bovespa and Russia's RTS rose 0.7%, 0.8%, and 4.1%, respectively.

Commodity prices were the stand out gainers in September as the oil price rallied 6.7% following an OPEC agreement to curb supply. Base metals were strong as Copper rose 5.6%. The coal price continued its strong run with the global COAL RB index rising 12.4% and is 50.5% higher over the last year. The CRB Total Return index rose 3.1% over the month. Global bonds were slightly firmer with the Barclays Global Aggregate index gaining 0.6%.

Local market returns

Turning to the South African equity market, a stronger rand proved to be a headwind for the All Share index, which fell 0.9% in September. The rand-hedge dominated Industrial index was understandably the underperformer, declining 3.5%. The Financials index rose 1.4%, while strong commodity prices boosted the Basic Material index 4.5%. The Gold Mining index lost 8.7%. The Mid and Small cap indices rose 0.9% and 1.2% respectively during the month. The All bond index rose an impressive 3.0%.

Monthly fund returns

During September the Maestro Balanced Fund's NAV decreased by 1.4% versus the Fund's benchmark which increased by 0.4%. The Maestro Equity Prescient Fund decreased by 1.6% versus the 0.9% decrease of the All Share index. The Prescient Income Provider Fund returned 0.9% against its benchmark return of 0.6%. The Prescient Bond QuantPlus Fund increased by 3.2% versus its benchmark increase of 3.0%. Central Park Global Balanced Fund declined 4.3% in rand terms versus the 6.3% decline of the rand benchmark.

Units in linked insurance policies should be considered as medium to long-term investments. The value of units may go up as well as down and past performance is not necessarily a guide to future performance. Unit prices are calculated on a net asset basis, which is the total value of all the assets in the portfolio including any income accruals and less any permissible deductions (Brokerage, Securities Transfer Tax, VAT, Auditor's fees, Bank Charges, Custodian fees and the annual Management fee) from the portfolio divided by the number of units in issue. Fluctuations or movements in exchange rates may cause the value of any underlying international investments to go up and down. Forward pricing is used. Maestro Investment Management (Pty) Limited and Prescient Life Limited are members of the Association for Savings and Investments of South Africa (ASISA).
