Market Overview

August was plagued with global investors' concerns over the "real" growth rate of the Chinese economy which is feared to be a fair bit lower than the official number. China's unexpected devaluation of the yuan and further interest rate cuts added to the nervousness. Commodity prices, already under severe pressure this year, declined further, as did emerging market currencies.

Developed equity markets coped badly; emerging markets fared even worse. The MSCI World index declined 6.8%, with the UK equity market declining 6.7%, the US 6.8%, Japan 8.2%, Germany 9.3% and Hong Kong 12.0%. The MSCI Emerging market index fared worse still, falling 9.2%, led by India, which declined 6.5%, Brazil 6.6% and China 12.5% (following July's 14.3% decline).

Commodity prices were again weak with the CRB and GSCI commodity indices declining 1.3% and 0.7% in August respectively. The gold price was the standout performer, gaining 2.9% for the month. The oil price was exceptionally volatile, plunging 15% at the start of the month, only to rise 27% during the last week of the month and then head lower by another 10% on the first day of September.

Commodity-based currencies suffered even more, with the Australian dollar, the rand, the Brazilian real and the Russian rouble declining 2.6%, 4.0%, 7.3% and 10.7% respectively against the dollar. The euro firmed against the greenback though, rising 2.6%, although sterling lost 1.5%.

Investors sought safety in global bonds resulting in the Barclays Capital Global Aggregate Bond index rising 0.1% during the month.

Local market returns

Turning to South African markets, the All Share index lost "only" 3.6%, led lower by the Financial and Industrial indices, which fell 3.0% and 4.4% respectively. The Basic Material index lost 0.9% and the Gold index rose 23.6%. The JSE Mid cap index rose 0.4% while the Small cap index fell 1.3%. The Bond market performed relatively well despite a very weak rand with the All Bond index rising 0.1% in August while cash provided a return of 0.5%.

Monthly fund returns

During August the Maestro Balanced Fund's NAV decreased 1.8% versus the Fund's benchmark decline of 1.5%. The Maestro Equity Prescient Fund decreased 3.4% versus the 3.6% decline in the All Share index. The Prescient Income Provider Fund returned 0.9% against its benchmark of 0.5%. The Prescient Bond QuantPlus Fund returned 0.4% versus its benchmark return of 0.1%. Central Park Global Balanced Fund returned -1.3% in rand terms relative to its benchmark return of -0.1%.

Units in linked insurance policies should be considered as medium to long-term investments. The value of units may go up as well as down and past performance is not necessarily a guide to future performance. Unit prices are calculated on a net asset basis, which is the total value of all the assets in the portfolio including any income accruals and less any permissible deductions (Brokerage, Securities Transfer Tax, VAT, Auditor's fees, Bank Charges, Custodian fees and the annual Management fee) from the portfolio divided by the number of units in issue. Fluctuations or movements in exchange rates may cause the value of any underlying international investments to go up and down. Forward pricing is used. Maestro Investment Management (Pty) Limited and Prescient Life Limited are members of the Association for Savings and Investments of South Africa (ASISA).
