Market Overview

Post an exceptionally strong rise in October, equity markets were on the whole slightly softer in November as the probability of the US Federal Reserve raising interest rates at their December meeting steadily increased. The continued collapse of commodity prices in the face of a strong US dollar added to the negative sentiment around Emerging Market equities, bonds and currencies.

The MSCI World index declined 0.7%, outperforming the MSCI Emerging market index which declined 4.0%. Within developed markets, the US equity market rose 0.2%, the Japanese market 3.5% and the German market 4.9%, largely on the back of a weakening euro. Amongst emerging markets, China rose 1.9% (its annual and year-to-date respective returns are 28.4% and 6.5% despite the huge mid-year collapse), but India fell 1.9%, Brazil 1.6%, Turkey 5.3% and Greece 9.3%.

The most dramatic action in markets during the month was seen in the commodity space as the US dollar firmed and concerns about the rate of Chinese growth continued to worry investors. The price of gold declined 7.0% while the platinum, palladium and silver prices declined 15.9%, 20.5% and 9.9% respectively. Oil fell 10.0% while the prices of copper, nickel and iron ore ended down 11.0%, 11.8% and 14.8% respectively.

The US dollar strengthened 4.4%, 2.5% and 4.3% against the euro, pound and rand respectively. In the face of an imminent US interest rate hike, unsurprisingly global bonds were weak as the Barclays Capital Global and US Aggregate bond indices lost 1.7% and 0.3% respectively.

"To achieve great things, two things are needed; a plan, and not quite enough time."

- Leonard Bernstein

Local market returns

Turning to the SA equity market, the Basic Materials and Gold indices were exceptionally weak, losing 14.5% and 14.6% respectively on the month. The Financial index shed 3.4% and the Industrial index 1.2%, culminating in a loss of 3.9% in the All Share index. The Top40 (large cap) index lost 3.9% and the mid and small cap indices lost 4.2% and 0.3% respectively. The All bond index declined 1.0% during November.

Monthly fund returns

During November the Maestro Balanced Fund's NAV Increased by 0.4% versus the Fund's benchmark which decreased by 1.7%. The Maestro Equity Prescient Fund declined 0.6% versus the 3.9% decline of the All Share index. The Prescient Income Provider Fund returned 0.8% against its benchmark of 0.5%. The Prescient Bond QuantPlus Fund declined by 0.8% versus its benchmark decline of 1.0%. Central Park Global Balanced Fund produced a rand return of 3.9% versus the 3.7% increase of the rand benchmark.

Units in linked insurance policies should be considered as medium to long-term investments. The value of units may go up as well as down and past performance is not necessarily a guide to future performance. Unit prices are calculated on a net asset basis, which is the total value of all the assets in the portfolio including any income accruals and less any permissible deductions (Brokerage, Securities Transfer Tax, VAT, Auditor's fees, Bank Charges, Custodian fees and the annual Management fee) from the portfolio divided by the number of units in issue. Fluctuations or movements in exchange rates may cause the value of any underlying international investments to go up and down. Forward pricing is used. Maestro Investment Management (Pty) Limited and Prescient Life Limited are members of the Association for Savings and Investments of South Africa (ASISA).
