Market Overview

Global equity markets maintained their strong momentum into February with most emerging and developed markets showing robust performances following a strong January.

The MSCI Emerging Market index gained 3.0% during the month bringing its 2017 return to 8.6% with strong emerging market currencies supporting the performance. Emerging Markets were led by Greece, which rose 5.6%, India 3.9%, Brazil 3.1%, and China 2.6%. The MSCI World index rose 2.6% during the month with its 2017 gain at 5.0%. The US equity market lead the charge, gaining 3.9% as a number of the major US indices touched all-time highs. The German and UK markets gained 2.6% assisted by a weak euro and pound respectively.

Global bond yields continued to decline, helping the Bloomberg Barclays Global Aggregate Bond index (previously the Barclays Capital Global Aggregate Bond index) to rise 0.5%.

The DXY dollar index gained 2.1% during the month as investor expectations increased that the US Federal Reserve would hike interest rates in March. Despite the strong dollar, commodity prices continued to rise. By way of example, nickel rose 10.4%, iron ore 9.9%, palladium 7.4%, and aluminium 5.2%. Precious materials were not to be outdone, with silver gaining 5.7%, platinum 5.5% and gold 3.5% (closing the month at $1 255 per ounce).

The rand performed strongly during the month gaining 3.1%, 4.0% and 4.6% against the dollar, euro and pound respectively.

Units in linked insurance policies should be considered as medium to long-term investments. The value of units may go up as well as down and past performance is not necessarily a guide to future performance. Unit prices are calculated on a net asset basis, which is the total value of all the assets in the portfolio including any income accruals and less any permissible deductions (Brokerage, Securities Transfer Tax, VAT, Auditor's fees, Bank Charges, Custodian fees and the annual Management fee) from the portfolio divided by the number of units in issue. Fluctuations or movements in exchange rates may cause the value of any underlying international investments to go up and down. Forward pricing is used. Maestro Investment Management (Pty) Limited and Prescient Life Limited are members of the Association for Savings and Investments of South Africa (ASISA).
