Market Overview

The year started off on a strong foot, with large gains in just about all markets, and in Hong Kong and China in particular. Then the day-trading phenomenon caused significant market disruption and concern, causing markets to sell off sharply during the last week of January. A welcome change was to see the dollar firm again; it only rose 0.7% in January, and so did not inflict too much damage on other markets. The rand lost 2.4% against the dollar and commodity prices ended the month mixed; the 13.8% gain in the oil price was a feature during the month. The Bloomberg Aggregate Global Bond index lost 0.9% on the month, but is still 6.9% higher than a year ago.

The MSCI Emerging Market index was a standout feature during January, It rose 3.0% (but was a lot firmer than that until the final week of the month) whereas the MSCI World index, consisting of developed markets, lost 1.1%. The Hong Kong stock market rose 3.9% and China eked out a 0.3% gain, but the Indian equity market lost 3.3%, as did the Brazilian market. US, German and Swiss equity markets lost 1.0%, 2.1%, and 1.1% respectively.

A feature throughout the month was the strength of the mid and small sectors in respective markets: the S&P Mid and Small cap indices rose 1.5% and 6.2% in January, although, as with all assets, they were higher by a much greater margin until the last week of the month. In short, despite the relatively modest gains, the year is off to a reasonable start and this strength has continued into February, notwithstanding all the market nonsense that prevailed during the last week of January (which is not to suggest it has ended or will go away soon).

Local market returns

Turning to the South African markets, the rand's weakness (-2.4%) and a very strong showing by Tencent (which rose 20.8% in Hong Kong during January, lifting Naspers to a 15.2% return on the month) helped the All Share index rise 5.2%. The Industrial index rose 8.4% and the Basic Material index 5.0%, but the Financial index lost 2.6%. The Mid and Small cap indices rose 2.6% and 3.9% respectively, while the All Bond index rose 0.7%..

Investment manager comment

The return on the Fund was 2.5% for the month, which although respectable, lagged the 5.2% gain in the All Share index. Discovery declined 16.2%, Afrimat fell 7.0%, Firststrand 6.4%, Transaction Capital 3.6%, Capitec 3.2% and Standard Bank 0.9% - note just how weak financial shares were. On a more positive note, Ninety One rose 5.7%, Richemont 6.7%, Billiton 7.2%, the MSCI Chinese ETF 7.3%, Aspen 14.1%, and Naspers 15.2%. Cashbuild rose 20.3% on the back of impressive results in the face of very difficult market conditions.

There were no major investment transactions during the month.

Disclaimer

Collective Investment Schemes in Securities (CIS) should be considered as medium to long-term investments. The value may go up as well as down and past performance is not necessarily a guide to future performance. CIS's are traded at the ruling price and can engage in scrip lending and borrowing. The collective investment scheme may borrow up to 10% of the market value of the portfolio to bridge insufficient liquidity. A schedule of fees, charges and maximum commissions is available on request from the Manager. There is no guarantee in respect of capital or returns in a portfolio. A CIS may be closed to new investors in order for it to be managed more efficiently in accordance with its mandate. CIS prices are calculated on a net asset basis, which is the total value of all the assets in the portfolio including any income accruals and less any permissible deductions (brokerage, STT, VAT, auditor's fees, bank charges, trustee and custodian fees and the annual management fee) from the portfolio divided by the number of participatory interests (units) in issue. Forward pricing is used. The Fund's Total Expense Ratio (TER) reflects the percentage of the average Net Asset Value (NAV) of the portfolio that was incurred as charges, levies and fees related to the management of the portfolio. A higher TER does not necessarily imply a poor return, nor does a low TER imply a good return. The current TER cannot be regarded as an indication of future TER's. During the phase in period TER's do not include information gathered over a full year. Transaction Costs (TC) is the percentage of the value of the Fund incurred as costs relating to the buying and selling of the Fund's underlying assets. Transaction costs are a necessary cost in administering the Fund and impacts Fund returns. It should not be considered in isolation as returns may be impacted by many other factors over time including market returns, the type of Fund, investment decisions of the investment manager and the TER. Where a current yield has been included for Funds that derive its income primarily from interest bearing income, the yield is a weighted average yield of all underlying interest bearing instruments as at the last day of the month. This yield is subject to change as market rates and underlying investments change. The Manager retains full legal responsibility for any third-party named portfolio. Where foreign securities are included in a portfolio there may be potential constraints on liquidity and the repatriation of funds, macroeconomic risks, political risks, foreign exchange risks, tax risks, settlement risks; and potential limitations on the availability of market information. The investor acknowledges the inherent risk associated with the selected investments and that there are no guarantees. Please note that all documents, notifications of deposit, investment, redemption and switch applications must be received by Prescient by or before 13:00 (SA), to be transacted at the net asset value price for that day. Where all required documentation is not received before the stated cut off time Prescient shall not be obliged to transact at the net asset value price as agreed to. Funds are priced at either 3pm or 5pm depending on the nature of the Fund. Prices are published daily and are available on the Prescient website. Performance has been calculated using net NAV to NAV numbers with income reinvested. The performance for each period shown reflects the return for investors who have been fully invested for that period. Individual investor performance may differ as a result of initial fees, the actual investment date, the date of reinvestments and dividend withholding tax. Full performance calculations are available from the manager on request. For any additional information such as fund prices, brochures and application forms please go to www.maestroinvestment.co.za.

Risks

Liquidity risk: If there are insufficient buyers or sellers of particular investments, the result may lead to delays in trading and being able to make settlements, and/or large fluctuations in value. This may lead to larger financial losses than expected. Equity investment risk: Value of equities (e.g. shares) and equity-related investments may vary according to company profits and future prospects as well as more general market factors. In the event of a company default (e.g. bankruptcy), the owners of their equity rank last in terms of any financial payment from that company. Foreign Investment risk: Foreign securities investments may be subject to risks pertaining to overseas jurisdictions and markets, including (but not limited to) local liquidity, macroeconomic, political, tax, settlement risks and currency fluctuations. Property risk: Investments in real estate securities can carry the same risks as investing directly in real estate itself. Real estate prices move in response to a variety of factors, including local, regional and national economic and political conditions, interest rates and tax considerations.

Glossary Summary

Annualised performance: Annualised performance show longer term performance rescaled to a 1 year period. Annualised performance is the average return per year over the period.

Actual annual figures are available to the investor on request.

Highest & Lowest return: The highest and lowest returns for any 1 year over the period since inception have been shown.

NAV: The net asset value represents the assets of a Fund less its liabilities.
