Market Overview

The direction of global investment markets during October were determined largely by developments in global bond markets, specifically by central bankers' utterances and the effects of the latter on bond yields (interest rates). A supportive element was the economic data released during the month, which was frequently difficult to reconcile with market expectations. There is ample evidence to suggest that US inflation, and inflation in other developed countries, is in a well-established downtrend, lending weight to the view amongst many, including ourselves, that inflation has peaked in this cycle and that interest rates have most likely also peaked. This tug-of-war has not been good for markets; bond yields had a strong upward bias, which in turn took its toll on equity markets. The Bloomberg Global Aggregate Bond index declined 1.2%, bringing its year-to-date decline to 3.4%. It declined 16.3% during 2022, so we are bearing down on a rare instance of three consecutive annual global bond market declines; this hasn't happened in four decades. The MSCI World and Emerging Market indices lost 3.0% and 4.0% respectively. The UK and German equity markets both lost 3.8%, the US market declined 2.1% and the tech-heavy NASDAQ lost 2.8%. The Swiss Market Index (SMI), a traditionally defensive index, lost 5.2%. Amongst emerging market universe, Turkey lost 9.9%, India and China 3.0% each, and Brazil 2.9%. The S&P Mid and Small cap indices lost 5.4% and 5.8% respectively, showing the extent of risk retraction during October. The dollar rose 0.5%, supported by the "higher for longer" view of interest rates, while most other currencies lost ground against it. Surprisingly, contrary to other emerging market currencies, the rand gained 0.5% against the strong dollar. The gold price rose 6.6% and the platinum price 2.9%, but the palladium price lost 8.0% and the oil price 7.1%. Volatility and uncertainty seemed the name of the game for most of October.

Returns for periods ended 31 October 2023

Local market returns

The All Share index lost 3.4% during October. The Basic Materials, Financial, and Industrial indices posted returns of -3.5%, -2.0% and -4.5% respectively. The Large, Mid and Small cap indices lost -3.7%, -3.2%, and -2.3% respectively. The All Bond index lost around 1.0%, bringing its year-to-date return to 1.0%, versus the comparable All Share index return of -1.3%.

Investment Manager comment

The Maestro Equity Prescient Fund declined 2.9%, which can be measured against the 3.4% decline in the All Share index. While one would expect the offshore exposure to help the Fund during volatile times, due to the rand strength in October the offshore exposure detracted from returns for the second consecutive month. Decliners during the month included Regeneron, which fell 17.6% on the month. Sasol fell 9.5% and Discovery Holdings 6.7%. Only Hudaco managed a gain during October, rising 0.2%.

At the end of October, 78.5% of the Fund’s assets were exposed to equity markets, while the remaining 21.5% was retained in cash.

The Fund adhered to its Policy objective during the month.

Disclaimer

Collective Investment Schemes in Securities (CIS) should be considered as medium to long-term investments. The value may go up as well as down and past performance is not necessarily a guide to future performance. CIS's are traded at the ruling price and can engage in scrip lending and borrowing. The collective investment scheme may borrow up to 10% of the market value of the portfolio to bridge insufficient liquidity. A schedule of fees, charges and maximum commissions is available on request from the Manager. There is no guarantee in respect of capital or returns in a portfolio. A CIS may be closed to new investors in order for it to be managed more efficiently in accordance with its mandate. CIS prices are calculated on a net asset basis, which is the total value of all the assets in the portfolio including any income accruals and less any permissible deductions (brokerage, STT, VAT, auditor's fees, bank charges, trustee and custodian fees and the annual management fee) from the portfolio total divided by the number of participatory interests (units) in issue. Forward pricing is used. The Fund's Total Expense Ratio (TER) reflects the percentage of the average Net Asset Value (NAV) of the portfolio that was incurred as charges, levies and fees related to the management of the portfolio. A higher TER does not necessarily imply a poor return, nor does a low TER imply a good return. The current TER cannot be regarded as an indication of future TER's. During the phase in period TER's do not include information gathered over a full year. Transaction Costs (TC) is the percentage of the value of the Fund incurred as costs relating to the buying and selling of the Fund's underlying assets. Transaction costs are a necessary cost in administering the Fund and impacts Fund returns. It should not be considered in isolation as returns may be impacted by many other factors over time including market returns, the type of Fund, investment decisions of the investment manager and the TER. Where a current yield has been included for Funds that derive its income primarily from interest bearing income, the yield is a weighted average yield of all underlying interest-bearing instruments as at the last day of the month. This yield is subject to change as market rates and underlying investments change. The Manager retains full legal responsibility for any third-party-named portfolio. Where foreign securities are included in a portfolio there may be potential constraints on liquidity and the repatriation of funds, macroeconomic risks, political risks, foreign exchange risks, tax risks, settlement risks; and potential limitations on the availability of market information. The investor acknowledges the inherent risk associated with the selected investments and that there are no guarantees. Please note that all documents, notifications of deposit, investment, redemption and switch applications must be received by Prescient by or before 13:00 (SA), to be transacted at the net asset value price for that day. Where all required documentation is not received before the stated cut off time Prescient shall not be obliged to transact at the net asset value price as agreed to. Funds are priced at either 3pm or 5pm depending on the nature of the Fund. Prices are published daily and are available on the Prescient website. Performance has been calculated using net NAV to NAV numbers with income reinvested. The performance for each period shown reflects the return for investors who have been fully invested for that period. Individual investor performance may differ as a result of initial fees, the actual investment date, the date of reinvestments and dividend withholding tax. Full performance calculations are available from the manager on request. For any additional information such as fund prices, brochures and application forms please go to www.maestroinvestment.co.za.

Foreign Investment risk: Foreign securities investments may be subject to risks pertaining to overseas jurisdictions and markets, including (but not limited to) local liquidity, macroeconomic, political, tax, settlement risks and currency fluctuations. Property risk: Investments in real estate securities can carry the same risks as investing directly in real estate itself. Real estate prices move in response to a variety of factors, including local, regional and national economic and political conditions, interest rates and tax considerations.
