Market Overview

To describe market behaviour during August as catastrophic might be melodramatic – unless you are a Turk or Argentinian of course. To describe it as concerning understates the powerful forces at work in currency and equity markets. One thing is for certain though – the past month showed that “global capital rules”. There is simply no place for structurally weak economies – only the strong will survive. Any sign of political indiscretion (and that is a loaded term) and structural economic weakness was dealt with swiftly and mercilessly during August.

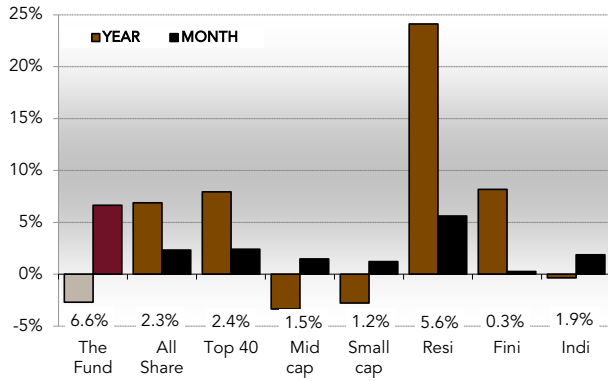

The US equity market rose 3.2%, while the UK, German, and Swiss markets declined 4.1%, 3.5%, and 2.2% respectively. Note how well the mid and small cap sectors of the US equity market are doing: during August the S&P Mid and Small cap indices rose 3.0% and 6.0% respectively, bringing their respective year-to-date returns to 7.6% and 17.3%. US equity markets were propelled by the tech sector – again – with the NASDAQ rising no less than 5.7% (year-to-date return of 17.5%). It is hard to believe that some of the world's largest technology giants can get any bigger, but look no further than their movements during August: Apple rose 19.6% during the month alone, adding an astonishing $178bn to its market cap (size) in the process, while Amazon didn't fare too badly either, rising 13.2%, adding $115bn in market cap during the month. To put Apple's gain into perspective, its market cap increase during August alone is equivalent to around 85% of the total value of the South African economy.

Local market returns

Turning to local markets, the All Share index produced a return of 2.3%, which looks good on the face of it, but of course in dollar terms was extremely poor (-8.5%). The rand-hedge sectors of Basic Materials and Industrials (thanks to a large weighting in offshore return-driven companies) produced positive monthly returns of 5.6% and 1.9% respectively. The Financial sector flew into the headwind of the weak rand, and ended only 0.3% higher, which is remarkable given how sensitive the index is to a weak rand. The All Bond index was under pressure throughout the month, ending down 1.9%.

Investment manager comment

The return on the Fund was 6.6% versus the 2.3% All Share index return. The weak rand combined with the strong US markets proved to be a headwind for the offshore trackers in the portfolio, which constitute 29.3% of the Fund. Shares that detracted from the returns included AdaptIT, which fell 10.3% despite reporting pleasing results. Standard Bank declined 8.6%, Afrimat lost 1.5%, and Firstrand 1.3%. On a positive note KAP rose 4.2%, Richemont 13.3%, Aspen 14.3%, and Ascendis Health 17.5%.

There were no major investment transactions in the Fund during the month.

Disclaimer

Collective Investment Schemes in Securities (CIS) should be considered as medium to long-term investments. The value may go up as well as down and past performance is not necessarily a guide to future performance. CIS's are traded at the ruling price and can engage in scrip lending and borrowing. The collective investment scheme may borrow up to 10% of the market value of the portfolio to bridge insufficient liquidity. A schedule of fees, charges and maximum commissions is available on request from the Manager. There is no guarantee in respect of capital or returns in a portfolio. A CIS may be closed to new investors in order for it to be managed more efficiently in accordance with its mandate. CIS prices are calculated on a net asset basis, which is the total value of all the assets in the portfolio including any income accruals and less any permissible deductions (brokerage, STT, VAT, auditor's fees, bank charges, trustee and custodian fees and the annual management fee) from the portfolio divided by the number of participatory interests (units) in issue. Forward pricing is used. The Fund's Total Expense Ratio (TER) reflects the percentage of the average Net Asset Value (NAV) of the portfolio that was incurred as charges, levies and fees related to the management of the portfolio. A higher TER does not necessarily imply a poor return, nor does a low TER imply a good return. The current TER cannot be regarded as an indication of future TER's. During the phase in period TER's do not include information gathered over a full year. Transaction Costs (TC) is the percentage of the value of the Fund incurred as costs relating to the buying and selling of the Fund's underlying assets. Transaction costs are a necessary cost in administering the Fund and impacts Fund returns. It should not be considered in isolation as returns may be impacted by many other factors over time including market returns, the type of Fund, investment decisions of the investment manager and the TER. Where a current yield has been included for Funds that derive its income primarily from interest bearing income, the yield is a weighted average yield of all underlying interest bearing instruments as at the last day of the month. This yield is subject to change as market rates and underlying investments change. The Manager retains full legal responsibility for any third-party-named portfolio. Where foreign securities are included in a portfolio there may be potential constraints on liquidity and the repatriation of funds, macroeconomic risks, political risks, foreign exchange risks, tax risks, settlement risks; and potential limitations on the availability of market information. The investor acknowledges the inherent risk associated with the selected investments and that there are no guarantees. Please note that all documents, notifications of deposit, investment, redemption and switch applications must be received by Prescient by or before 13:00 (SA), to be transacted at the net asset value price for that day. Where all required documentation is not received before the stated cut off time Prescient shall not be obliged to transact at the net asset value price as agreed to. Money market Funds are priced at 1pm all other Funds are priced at either 3pm or 5pm depending on the nature of the Fund. Prices are published daily and are available on the Prescient website. Performance has been calculated using net NAV to NAV numbers with income reinvested. The performance for each period shown reflects the return for investors who have been fully invested for that period. Individual investor performance may differ as a result of initial fees, the actual investment date, the date of reinvestments and dividend withholding tax. Full performance calculations are available from the manager on request. For any additional information such as fund prices, brochures and application forms please go to www.maestroinvestment.co.za.
