Market Overview

Global equity markets continue to struggle with volatility and uncertainty regarding geopolitical considerations more than anything else. With the odd exception – South Africa being one of them – global economies are in good health and the corporate sector is firing on all cylinders. Inflation concerns are omnipresent, but that has not spooked global markets as much as some would have thought. That said, we must not forget in March we emerged from one of the longest periods on record of consecutive equity market monthly gains, so we should not be surprised to see prices churn at their current levels.

A firm dollar was arguably the feature of the past month; the euro lost 2.2% against it, pound sterling lost 2.3%, and the Swiss franc 3.7%. The trade-weighted dollar index rose 1.9%, putting pressure on most emerging market currencies. Consequently, the MSCI Emerging market index lost 0.6%, led by Turkey, which lost 9.6% as the country heads into an election and the ruling party unashamedly greases voters' palms with economic largesse the country can ill-afford. Russian equities lost 7.7% in the face of another wave of US sanctions, this time aimed at oligarchs.

The Chinese equity market declined 2.7%, but the Indian market rose 6.7%. The MSCI World index rose 1.0%, driven higher by markets dominated by companies whose earnings benefit from weaker local currencies. The UK equity market rose 6.4%, but is still 2.5% lower for the year-to-date, while Germany rose 4.3% but remains 2.4% lower on the year so far. The Swiss market rose 1.7%.

Local market returns

Turning to local markets, the firm dollar put pressure on the rand, which lost 5.6% during April. This aided the Basic Material index, which rose 8.6%, although the Gold index lost 2.0%. The Industrial index rose 5.2%, and the Financial index 3.2%. The Large, Mid and Small cap indices rose 5.8%, 3.5%, and 1.2% respectively. All in all it was a rather profitable month for SA equity investors. The All Bond index lost 0.7%.

Monthly fund returns

During April the Maestro Growth Fund's NAV increased by 2.7% versus the Fund's benchmark which increased by 3.8%. The Maestro Equity Prescient Fund increased by 3.1% versus the 5.4% increase of the All Share index. The Prescient Income Provider Fund returned 0.8% against its benchmark return of 0.6%. The Prescient Bond QuantPlus Fund increased by 0.3% versus its benchmark decrease of 0.7%. Central Park Global Balanced Fund increased by 4.8% in rand terms versus the 5.9% increase of the rand benchmark.

Units in linked insurance policies should be considered as medium to long-term investments. The value of units may go up as well as down and past performance is not necessarily a guide to future performance. Unit prices are calculated on a net asset basis, which is the total value of all the assets in the portfolio including any income accruals and less any permissible deductions (Brokerage, Securities Transfer Tax, VAT, Auditor's fees, Bank Charges, Custodian fees and the annual Management fee) from the portfolio divided by the number of units in issue. Fluctuations or movements in exchange rates may cause the value of any underlying international investments to go up and down. Forward pricing is used. Maestro Investment Management (Pty) Limited and Prescient Life Limited are members of the Association for Savings and Investments of South Africa (ASISA).
